Nature of activities

Dios focuses on LITHIUM and GOLD-COPPER exploration in James Bay, Quebec, along a major geological province contact.

Several significant LITHIUM acquisitions were completed in 2023, in addition to at least two large LITHIUM properties in 2022: Nemiscau North and Lithium33 Battery Metal contiguous to AU33 hosting Dios’ HEBERTO GOLD discovery.

Lithium metal is critical in universal fight against global warming, core component of lithium-ion batteries for powering electric vehicles & large-scale energy storage.

Wholly-owned K2 copper-gold-silver property is adjacent south-west in strike of Azimut’s Elmer gold Patwon discovery property.

Exploration performed during the quarter

Dios completed large scale exploration work to acquire high lithium potential properties in James Bay, Central Quebec, within prolific LaGrande geological sub-province.

Claim acquisitions were afterwards completed based on Lithium metal anomaly clusters occurrences in lake sediments, in association with Cesium, Rubidium & tin, based on anomalous real values and from glacial till data if available, looking for LCT pegmatites. Glacial studies help understand dispersal train data to focus on possible head sources.

Among others, Dios then targeted favourable areas at the margins of white pegmatitic evolved plutons: geochemistry ratios were also used to identify evolved pegmatites.

Intense compilation work completed by Dios' Qualified QP Geologists found many series of pegmatite outcrops looked for at each claim scale within Quebec Government files.

These pegmatite outcrops were then verified with detailed processed geophysical data to look for elongated structures such as pegmatite dykes, always in the vicinities of lithium-cesium-rubidium anomalies.

Detailed claim by claim satellite imagery studies, as well as topographic studies, then helped contribute to identify possible extents of already identified high potential pegmatite outcrops along several kilometer long structures.

Major field work prospecting for spodumene discovery (lithium mineral looked for) will start in second half of August along these prospective pegmatitic structures associated with lithium-rubidium-cesium values*, to be followed by drilling later on.

 T for tantalum in LCT, not significant in lake sediments due to assay method. Rubidium is clearly more significant, almost equivalent to Lithium content to determine pegmatite potential*
